Perspective of Future

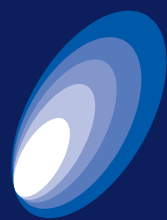

Iran Plast stands as the largest and most important exhibition in Iran for petrochemical products, materials, machinery, and services. It is also among the most prestigious exhibitions in the Middle East and Asia.

This international event serves as the ultimate platform where industry players—both Iranian and foreign—gather to exchange knowledge, technologies, and expertise, fostering mutually beneficial business collaborations.

Since its inception in 2002, Iran Plast has seen remarkable growth, with more than 10,000 companies participating over the years. More than 2,000 companies from Iran and abroad come together annually to explore new opportunities and expand their business networks.

From 2017 onward, the exhibition transitioned from a biennial to an annual event to better cater to exhibitors' needs, offering a gateway for companies seeking sustainable and progressive business collaborations.

Organized by the National Petrochemical Company (NPC)—affiliated with the Iranian Ministry of Petroleum—Iran Plast is fully supported to facilitate foreign partnerships and enhance industry-wide growth.
